For decades blues artist GG Amos has entertained and riveted music lovers with her "leave it all on the stage" performances.

With an emotionally charged, fluid voice and distinct, expressive blues and jazz blended guitar style, she's been on an ever evolving journey to expand. Hailing from Sacramento but based in San Francisco for the past 15years, GG's honed her craft as performer, songwriter and arranger. Some influences include, Louis Armstrong, Kenny Burrell, Johnny "Guitar" Watson, Carlos Santana and in recent years Chris Cain.

Since 2004 she's focused on the West Coast blues style –a blend of blues, jazz, funk, and latin elements.

GG's performed with or opened for artists such as John Lee Hooker, Guitar Shorty, Jimmy McCracklin, Lowell Fulson, Koko Taylor, Johnny Heartsman, Chris Cain and Sista Monica, to name a few.

Recordings include her album "Gotts Ta Go", her single "West Coast" (tribute to Johnny Heartsman), and "Side By Side" – a single dedicated to US veterans. Her album of original songs is in the works.

GG has a long history performing in nightclubs, festivals, public and private events, wineries, regional and national touring and toured Poland.

Some Appearances: Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival, Bay Area Blues Festival in Martinez, The San Jose Jazz Summer Fest, The Sacramento Arts Festival (for the past 20 years), Facebook Farmers Market in Menlo Park, Valhalla Tahoe Music Festival, Lake Almanor Summer Concert Series, North Beach Festival SF, Delta Blues Festival in Antioch, Tracy Blues & Brews Festival, Point Richmond Summer Music Festival, Club Fox Blues Jam Redwood City (host band), The Saloon SF (residency) and many more..

Quotes: "Must say, nothing is as good as sex but this is close!"

"Girl, you can boogie!" ~John Lee Hooker ~Kjell Andreassen / Radio Holstebro, Denmark

"You're a hell of a guitar player and singer too!" ~Guitar Shorty
